County launches campaign to find 100 new employees in social work

SOMERSET County Council has launched a campaign to attract new social workers to the area.

ments.

New workers are being offered a relocation package of up to £8,000, training and career development opportunities.

Councillor Frances Nicholson, Cabinet Member for Children and Families said Somerset County Council was offering social workers a chance to be part of something "really exciting".

"We are making improvements, investing in the service and have an authority that it is entirely committed to making our Children's Services something we can be truly proud of," she added.

Somerset County Council invested £6million to help boost social work capacity in Somerset. An impressive benefits offer has been developed for children's social workers including the chance to buy extra holiday to add to the existing allocation.

At the same time as the new "Power of &" initiative, the county council is leading a consortium of local authorities in the government's "Step Up to Social Work" programme. Somerset will receive eight trainee social workers and last week the new recruits met each other and their prospective employers for the first time.

One of the new trainees said: "It was a really good session, all very exciting and motivating. We all said that we feel we are being given a fantastic opportunity and can't wait to get started."

The trainees will begin their academic and work-based training in January 2016 for 14 months and will become fully-fledged social workers in early 2017.

Councillor Nicholson said: "The 'Step Up to Social Work' programme is going to help us grow our own social workers, nurturing their development so that in under two years they will be providing the best possible support to our children and young people. I can't wait for the trainees to join us in improving our services for children and its wonderful news that they can't wait to get started too."

The "Step Up Social Work" programme targeted graduates with a 2:1 in any discipline (except social work) who had experience of working with children. It is a 14 month, fast-track endeavour, which will lead to a Post Graduate Diploma in social work for the trainees.

In addition to this offer, the council has a commitment to its social workers to reduce field-work caseloads down to an average of 14, which is fewer than many other local authorities. Team managers in Children's Social Care will manage teams of no more than six staff also, and these commitments will allow staff to focus more time on delivering a higher level of service.

Councillor Nicholson added: "Stability is the foundation of any successful service and Children's Services in particular. That's why we want permanent staff to join us in being part of something special."

TOP STORIES FROM ACROSS EAST DEVON AND SOUTH SOMERSET

SIDMOUTH

No public right of way at Knowle

EAST Devon District Council have welcomed the decision to reject a public backed move to register public footpaths at the Knowle.

In April 2012, the Knowle Residents' Association had asked Devon County Council to designate several footpaths on the Knowle campus as public rights of way under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981.

Knowle Residents' Association members wanted several paths to be legally recognised as public rights of way, as they have been used by the local community for over 20 years. Protesters felt that access to these area would be affected after the sale of the Knowle to developers Pegasus Ltd.

However, the planning application was originally refused in June 2013 so KRA lodged an appeal with the Planning Inspectorate.

After various legal appeal processes, Martin Elliott, the inspector, has agreed with the district council that no order should be made to dedicate any of the claimed routes as public rights of way.

Mr Elliott gave his reasoning that the argument that the public had the right to use the area was unfounded as the use of the whole of the Knowle is regulated by bylaws.

EDDC Chief Executive, Mark Williams said: "Given the criticism the council was subject to following the initial appeal decision, the council is pleased that its position on this matter has been vindicated following the determination of by the inspector."

The land in question is owned by EDDC.

OTTERY ST MARY Halloween spirit on Carnival night

OTTERY St Mary's busiest week of the year kicked off in style as local residents got into the Halloween spirit by cheering on the season ending carnival.

With Tar Barrels on Thursday (November 5th), the carnival made sure it wasn't overlooked with a host of fantastic and ingenious entrants.

Re-joining the carnival scene this year after a year out were Sidvale CC, who have enjoyed a successful return to the illuminated circuit. Once again Sidvale picked up the award for best overall float just as they had done in Sidmouth last month.

Ottery's own OSMVSU CC also proved to have a successful carnival season, regularly picking up awards as well. This year's float was based around the popular Elvis Presley film 'Jailhouse Rock'.

The carnival day started at 2pm as the town turned out in force to witness the crowning of the carnival royalty by Lady Coleridge.

The carnival now precedes the world famous and long standing tradition that is the Flaming Tar Barrel event with thousands of visitors expected to attend the event and enjoy the thrill of avoiding the runners.

Organisers of Tar Barrels encourage donations from all attendants to help meet the significant costs of keeping the historical event alive.

The event sees a huge number of town marshals, barrel marshals, security and volunteers give up their time to help the public enjoy the local tradition.

From the editor's chair A caring service indeed

WHAT would Axminster do without the Care Service? I ask the question after our report this week that the service has pumped more than £40,000 into needy causes over the past 18 months.

The range of donations and support offered by this charity is nothing short of staggering, covering virtually every aspect of community and social life in Axminster.

They make a real difference to the lives of so many people in and around the town.

At an event last Saturday to launch the care service's new website and social media outlets, MP Neil Parish praised the volunteers who work so hard to ensure that the people of Axminster, young and old, are never forgotten.

Many will argue that some of the help they dispense to those who are struggling to make ends meet in these days of austerity should be provided by the State. In an ideal world, yes. But life in the United Kingdom at the moment is far from ideal with George Osborne being forced to think again about his cuts to tax credits.

I'm not a big fan of the House of Lords but on this occasion I think they did the right thing.

Life is a struggle for many young families and without the support of organisations like Axminster Care Service, it would be much worse.

But it doesn't happen without a great deal of organisation and voluntary effort which we should never underestimate.

♦ MY mainly tongue-in-cheek comments about Chard in this column last week did not go down too well in some quarters. It was not my intention to belittle the town or its residents, the intention being to highlight that Chard's reputation was not a fair reflection of what the town is all about.

AXMINSTER Care service's £40k for needy

AXMINSTER Care Service has been praised for the fantastic community work that they do in the area.

In the past 18 months the organisation, which runs the Togs charity shop in South Street, has pumped more than £40,000 in various local projects.

At a "Meet the Team" event on Saturday, which coincided with the launch of the services' new website, Twitter and Facebook accounts, local MP Neil Parish praised the volunteers' hard work and enthusiasm.

The care service boasts close to 90 local volunteers all from the Axe Valley area and offers a whole host of services including transport to help people get to hospital, the surgery and chiropody appointments they might otherwise miss.

Every two years the ACS delivers to each Axminster household a comprehensive booklet contacting useful information about other local services and organisations.

HONITON Town centre set to shine

HONITON Chamber of Commerce's mission to light up the town this Christmas is proving to be a big success – but there is still time for businesses who haven't donated to do so.

The campaign has so far raised a fantastic £5,265 with plenty of local businesses donating to the fund by pledging between £100 and £250.

Mandy Newman from the Chamber of Commerce has been working hard visiting most of the businesses in town but, inevitably, there are some she still has not spoken to.

Mandy said: "Yet again, we have had a great response from local businesses helping us to light up the town for Christmas."

"All I ask is that businesses who did not contribute last year and have not yet contributed this year think again. Lighting up the town means Honiton can compete with other towns for Christmas trade and it's great for those of us with grandchildren for the town to have a festive atmosphere."

The Chamber of Commerce is still in negotiations to purchase more lights for the town, but so far 22 sets of lights will be put up on High Street, and New Street will have a large banner light at the front plus crisscross lighting.

SOUTH SOMERSET County seeks 100 social workers

SOMERSET County Council has launched a campaign to attract new social workers to the area.

The campaign, named "Power of 8", will showcase what the county's Children's Services department has to offer as it looks to secure up to 100 new permanent social workers to help continue the service's improvements.

New workers are being offered a relocation package of up to £8,000, training and career development opportunities.

SEATON Council asks to meet PCC over station closure

FOLLOWING the decision to close the police station, Seaton Town Council will invite Devon and Cornwall Police Commissioner Tony Hogg to attend a meeting with them to discuss the future of policing in the town.

Although the public enquiry office at the station has been closed for several years, the complete closure of the station comes amid Devon and Cornwall's planned £54million cost cutting initiative.

Seaton Mayor, Councillor Tony Woodman, who proposed the motion at the town council meeting on October 24th, has in the past voiced his desire for the residents and the council to "stand up and fight" to save vital services for the town.

At the meeting Cllr Woodman said he wanted to talk to the powers that be to discuss the future of policing in Seaton.

"I think it will be a good idea, at this early stage to try and get a meeting with Mr Hogg and the Chief Constable Shaun Sawyer, so we can talk about what they plan to do in Seaton. Rather than us waiting to be told what is going to be done."

New Community Beat Manager, PC Richard Jenkins, had clarified a few issues, earlier on in the meeting in regards to the closing of the police station.

"As result of the Devon and Cornwall's savings that have to be made, they are looking at closing up to 34 buildings, not all necessarily stations, and Seaton is one of them."

"The process will take about a year to do, which means we are probably looking at, roughly, two years from now, the police station in Seaton will close," PC Jenkins said.

PC Jenkins went on to say that at the moment the police force was looking for potential spaces where they could be based.

"The new community base would be shared with other public sectors partners in Seaton and would be a place for the officers to complete paper work and their IT duties."

The search for new premises was backed by Cllr Woodman who said: "Knowing where we [the council] are hoping to be in 12 months' time, I think we could actually work with the police and, together, come up with a base for them in Seaton."

Somerset named fourth most improved county for GCSE results

STUDENTS and teachers across Somerset have made the county council the fourth most improved local education authority for GCSEs this year.

Figures from the Department for Education show the proportion of students in Somerset awarded five or more GCSEs grades of A* to C, including maths and English, for 2015 was 58 per cent. This is a four per cent increase compared to the national improvement of 0.2 per cent, and great news for all those working to improve educational outcomes for young people in Somerset.

The county council's spokesman for children and families, Councillor Frances Nicholson, said: "I would like to congratulate all those students for their GCSE results which are a great reward for the effort and hard work they have put into their studies.

"I would also like to congratulate school leaders, teachers and staff who have educated and guided these young people through their successful studies. Young people's education and careers are an extremely important priority for the council and it is pleasing to see efforts being rewarded.

"I urge any students who have not received the grades they had hoped for not to be too cast down but to work with schools, colleges and employers to consider a different option which will allow them to achieve their potential."

In addition to each individual school in Somerset working on their own plans to raise GCSE achievement levels, 38 schools within the county have been working collaboratively to provide challenge and support through the Somerset Challenge.

This programme was set up in 2013 with the aim to significantly raise the standards of achievement for young people in Somerset. This is a schools led initiative, working in partnership with Local Authority which actively promotes collaborative and partnership working between schools in Somerset and also other national bodies such as the London Leadership Strategy.

The three local authorities to be higher than Somerset in the "most improved" rankings are Brighton & Hove, North Tyneside and Poole.

■ CHILDREN from the Year 3 class of Neroche Primary School in Ilminster have made a "Minnion Fawkes Guy" for Ilminster Football Club's bonfire night on Sunday, November 8th. All the children of Neroche Primary School wish Ilminster Football Club a wonderful night next week for their nonfire night. Miss Rigden, Year 3 teacher said 'The children were very proud of placing a G and two forks in our Minions pocket - we hope other people get the joke made by our class! I don't think I've ever seen a Guy look like this.' Pictured below, students at Holyrood Academy in Chard have also been getting into the autumn spirit by carving Halloween pumpkins.

Police-funded community safety projects have helped thousands

AN evaluation of community safety projects funded by Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) Sue Mountstevens has found that thousands of people have been helped through prevention, support and intervention work.

In collaboration with community safety partnerships across Avon and Somerset, Ms Mountstevens spent over £2.3million funding a range of projects and services in 2014/15.

An evaluation has found that almost 3,000 at risk young people have been supported through prevention and early intervention activity, with 176 high risk young people receiving more targeted support.

Over 340 people with substance misuse needs have been supported through treatment services, while 4,237 offenders with drug misuse needs received treatment by a new single Arrest Intervention and Referral service, offering offenders referral to treatment from police custody in order to break the cycle of addiction and offending.

A further 853 survivors of domestic abuse received support through the Independent Domestic Violence Advisors, including family intervention work and access to dedicated programmes, while 10 perpetrators of domestic abuse also received support through a structured one to one programme.

The single Independent Sexual Violence Advice service helped 646 victims of sexual abuse and 12 people involved in sexually harmful behaviours.

A project supporting hate crime victims across Bath and North East Somerset, Bristol and South Gloucestershire helped 179 people, and 200 victims of anti-social behaviour received support through a range of projects in Somerset, North Somerset and South Gloucestershire.

Of the 51 projects that were evaluated, the commissioner's team found that eight projects fell marginally short of delivering expectations for the year and one project fell significantly short, although this is currently being addressed.

Ms Mountstevens said: "Working in collaboration with the local authority community safety partnerships the grant is supporting locally-driven community safety activities which are providing long-term, sustainable positive activities for young people, helping to help reduce anti-social behaviour, providing treatment for people with substance misuse and supporting people affected by domestic or sexual abuse.

"These are exactly the type of activities that reassure and improve the quality of life in local areas and it could not be achieved without the hard-work and dedication of many charities, councils and communities."

The responsibility for administering the community safety grant and allocating it to local authorities transferred from the Home Office to police and crime commissioners in April 2013. This is the first evaluation report since the changes.

Red Hats looking for new members

THE Ilminster branch of the all-female Red Hat Society is holding an open evening for potential new members next month.

The Red Hat Society is a self-described "disorganisation" dedicated to ladies of a certain age who wish to grow older with verve and enthusiasm and, above all, just have fun.

A Red Hat Society spokesman said: "We hold monthly coffee mornings where we all participate in arranging a social programme that encompasses varied interests which might include local theatre, informal lunches, skittles and American suppers, trips to local market towns, and so much more.

"The members will meet new friends and enjoy life with confidence and enthusiasm.

"Our only motto is Live, Laugh and Love and wear purple with a red hat – sounds crazy I know, but wherever we go we guarantee to bring a smile."

The open evening for recruitment in Ilminster is being held on Friday, November 13th from 7pm to 9pm at the Stonemasons pub.

To find out more – look for the British Red Hat Society on the internet or phone Jayne on 01460-57011 or email j.friarscrag@gmail.com

Students question town councillors

■ IN THE HOT SEAT: Ilminster town councillors Val Keitch and Sophie Storey answered questions from schoolchildren

IT WAS questions at the ready when students from Greenfylde and Swanmead schools in Ilminster, and Wadham Chool in Crewkerne, held another question and answer session with members of Ilminster Town Council.

Councillors Val Keitch and Sophie Storey enjoyed a lively session and answered pupils' questions about Ilminster, including sports provision, road safety, litter and non-sports clubs for the youth of the town.

Claire Oaten, headteacher at Greenfylde, who arranged the meeting, said: "Every time we hold one of these meetings I am always surprised by the maturity of the questions asked and how much enthusiasm our pupils show in their home town. We are very proud of the pupils from all three school and I can honestly say that these meetings are a joy to attend as they give us so much hope for the future citizenship of Ilminster."

"Our thanks go to Councillors Keitch and Storey for hosting this event and to the town council for the use of the council chamber."

Council thanks residents for the patience

CHARD Town Council has thanked everyone for their patience during the recent drainage works carried out in parts of the town.

There was disruption during the works carried out by Somerset County Council in Old Town and Church Road.

A town council spokesman said: "We appreciate that, as a result of these works many people had to put up with a significant increase in traffic levels as drivers found ways around the road works.

"Residents in the roads that were used as diversions have shown a great degree of courtesy, patience and tolerance and this has helped the life of Chard to proceed as normally as possible during a difficult period."

The spokesman added: "We would also like to thank Somerset Highways, and their contractors, who have carried out the work in a very efficient manner and have completed it over a week ahead of schedule."

National success for Chard cyclist

WIEBKE Rietz of 1st Chard Wheelers won her class at the National Hill Climb Championship, which took place near Holmfirth in Yorkshire recently.

The competition attracted a full field of 240 riders of which 42 were females.

Wiebke (pictured) has been riding and racing for the Chard-based club for six years, won the Somerset Senior Sports Performer of the Year award in 2012, and has performed well in women's road races all over the country and abroad, despite having a set-back in the shape of ill health in 2013.

This year she rode the "Vattenfall Cycloclassics" in Hamburg, a 100-mile race, which she completed in four hours and 25 minutes.

Apart from running her successful architect practice Alchemilla Architects, which also sponsors 1st Chard Wheelers, Wiebke organises the club's own Hill Climb event every year and plans to take part in next year's National Hill Climb Championships, when she will have moved up into the next age category.

Assembly to address challenges in providing rural housing schemes

SOUTH Somerset Together, the district's Local Strategic Partnership, will hold a Housing Assembly on Thursday, November 12th.

The assembly will be held in the council offices at Brympton Way, Yeovil, from 4.30pm to 7.30pm and places are limited so they must be booked in advance.

A spokesman for South Somerset Together said: "Housing is inextricably linked to health and the economy, but bringing forward rural housing schemes to meet the demands of residents in the district is a challenge.

"Recent legislative and budgetary changes will likely further impact housing development. Following on from the successful assembly in October 2014, South Somerset Together is holding a second assembly to explore further what is preventing housing from coming forward in our rural communities and how we can work better together to provide homes to meet the demand."

Keynote speakers at this event are experts from the housing industry, including representatives from local housing associations, district and county Councils and a prominent local developer.

Presentations will highlight some of the impacts on housing of legislative and budgetary changes; how bidding data is helping understanding of where demand is greatest and how support and growth can be targeted; and local developer perspectives of key drivers and barriers to bringing forward successful housing. A presentation will also highlight how assistive technology is helping people to stay independent and remain in their homes for longer.

There will be opportunity for participants to express their views on some of these topics and possible solutions during the event.

Representatives from a wide range of organisations, parishes and businesses in the area have already booked to attend this free event.

Baroness Bakewell of Hardington Mandeville (known as Cathy Bakewell), who chairs South Somerset Together, said: "I am pleased we are now in a position to take this important issue forward. With the number of people becoming homeless increasing, it is time to have a serious discussion about how we rise to the challenge of housing in our area."

Real concerns

Councillor Ric Pallister, leader of South Somerset District Council, added: "The changes from central government have come in thick and fast since May and there are real concerns about their impact on the future supply of housing to meet need at every level. In particular, I am worried about matching housing with our employers' needs, be that the hospital or firms such as Numatic.

"If we get it wrong, there will be a serious lack of housing for the key workers that our businesses must have and rough sleeping may once again stalk our towns. If we are to find the solutions, it needs everyone to put their heads together and I hope that the assembly can make a major contribution in this."

Anyone wishing to attend can book their place by contacting Chereen Scott, South Somerset Together co-ordinator, on 01935 462377 or by emailing chereen.scott@southsomerset.gov.uk

Royal Naval Association tour historic dockyard and celebrate Trafalgar Day

TWENTY members of the Chard Royal Navy Association recently spent the day at the RNA headquarters at Portsmouth's Historic Dockyard.

The day involved a meet and greet with tea and a buffet lunch followed by an hour-long trip at sea touring the dockyard and bringing back many fond memories.

After testing out their seas legs, the group enjoyed tea and cake before a guided tour of HMS Warrior, visiting MHS Victory and seeing the Mary Rose, as well as the Monitor which was in dry dock and is the last surviving Royal Naval ship from the Gallipoli Campaign.

This was followed a week later with the branch celebrating its annual tribute to Admiral Lord Nelson at a Trafalgar Dinner held at the Lordleaze Hotel in Chard.

Rita Hoddinott, ex-First Officer WRNS, gave an interesting after dinner speech. Mrs Hoddinott had been invited to attend the event by the Chard RNA chairman, ex-Petty Officer Wren Paula Moon, as Rita had been the chairman's very first Divisional Officer on joining the service at HMS Dauntless in July 1970.

The association also held its yearly Trafalgar Day service at St Thomas' Church in Cricket St Thomas, which was well attended by not only the RNA but by members of the public and guests staying at the Lordleaze Hotel.

October was brought to a close with members undertaking a street collection within Chard.

The branch would like to thank all the local resident of Chard who made donations helping the RNA to raise over £330.

Local dad hits 10-month mark of teetotal year in honour of his son

A CHARD dad who pledged to be teetotal for 12 months to raise money in honour of his son, has hit the 10 month mark and is urging the community to continue their support.

Barry Cooke is raising money for Fiveways School in Yeovil and the Laurel Centre in Chard, both of which have supported his son Billy.

Billy has severe epilepsy, known as Lennox Gastaut Syndrome, and a serious heart disease, but he celebrated his 19th birthday this year, against all the odds.

Barry said: "Nita [Billy's mum] and I were told some years ago that Billy probably wouldn't see out his childhood, but due to his strength of character, he has.

"This year was always going to be a big year for Billy as he left Fiveways School and entered adulthood, now attending Future for Chard at the Laurel's Centre."

Councillor Amanda Broom, district councillor for the Combe ward in Chard, where Barry lives, is supporting the cause.

She said: "Having recently managed 30 days without alcohol for charity myself, I can only imagine how Barry is feeling right now.

"I believe many people are queuing up to buy Barry his first pint in January, but it would be much better if you could donate to this great cause today instead and let Barry buy his own pint!"

Barry decided to go alcohol free to celebrate Billy's adulthood and to give something back to the two centres that have supported the Cooke family so well over the last 19 years.

Marcus Fysh, MP for the Yeovil constituency, has previously visited both Fiveways School and the Laurel Centre and said: "Billy is such an inspiring young adult, the support and love shown by his parents is incredibly warming.

"Please show your support and let Barry and Nita say a huge thank you to Fiveways and the Laurels."

So far, Barry has over £2,000 pledged and a target of around £2,500, which he needs to reach by January when his alcohol free year is up.

To donate, contact Councillor Broom on 07971 109803 or email her on amanda.broom@south-somerset.gov or alternatively through the Laurel Centre directly.

Rotarians host members of French twin club

THE Rotary Club of Ilminster played host this month to their twin club from Mamers, France.

In total almost half of the Rotarians from the French club, led by their president Luc Barat, were able to travel to Ilminster for a weekend of entertainment and friendship.

Ilminster president Linda Piggott-Vijeh said: "We were delighted that once again they all came to visit the town. It is a long standing tradition that we alternate our venues and this time we were especially thrilled that town crier Andrew Fox, and his wife Julie, had agreed to give them a traditional welcome in the Market House, and they really loved the bacon butties we provided for breakfast on their arrival at The Shrubbery Hotel."

The trip was organised by long-standing member Edward Wells, with guests hosted for the weekend by local Rotarians. In addition to the usual feasting everyone enjoyed a visit to the Norman Lockyer Observatory in Sidmouth.

"We are already planning our return visit to France with the excuse of being able to drink loads of wine," added Linda.

ILMINSTER Rotarians Terry Bate and Lind Piggott-Vijeh have been encouraging friends and relatives to donate their unwanted bras to help raise vital funds for a cancer charity and helping the less fortunate.

BCR Global Textiles, which helps small businesses in Africa, have teamed with UK charity Against Breast Cancer. Through their textile project BCR are preventing valuable textiles going to landfill giving them a new lease of life in developing countries across Africa where bras remain too expensive to produce. The company is donating £1,000 to the cancer charity for every tonne of bras collected, which equates to 9,000 bras.

All unwanted bras deposited at a bra bank are whisked away to start a new life on the other side of the world, where traders support their families selling textiles locally.

Linda said: "The cups are removed and the elastic and straps are replaced locally to give them a new lease of life."

"Having survived breast cancer myself I know how devastating it can be. By using unwanted bras in such a creative way it is great that we are helping to support others, who may not even be able to afford a new bra, whilst helping the environment too."

Students given a science lesson in dental care

STUDENTS from Greenfylde First School in Ilminster had a visit this week from Nicki, part of the dental team at Spring-side Dental Practice in Chard, to enrich their curriculum learning in science.

The pupils' topic this half term has been digestion and teeth, and the visit proved to be a real success.

The children were given a brushing demonstration and talk, and were shown slides of what might happen if you don't look after your teeth properly. They discussed which foods were good and bad for teeth and they will be sure to be checking up on the brushing at home in the future!

The school would like to thank all at Springside Dental Practice for offering this opportunity.

■ GREENFYLDE First School in Ilminster hosted a Football Festival last week, with five schools from the local area producing seven teams to take part. Around 60 children took part in total in the under nines' festival, with pupils from Wadham and Swanmead acting as referees. The festival took place at Ilminster Football Cub, which allowed the children to play on the main pitch. Schools taking part were Greenfylde, Hinton St George, Broadwindsor, Hambridge and St Mary and St Peters Primary School. All teams played at least four games on the day with many children competing in a school match for the first time. A further festival is planned for the spring term.

Schoolchildren visit RNAS Merryfield

CHILDREN visited the Royal Naval Air Station Merryfield, near Ilminster, to see the operational aircraft in action.

Curry Mallet Primary School recently ran a week-long science, technology, engineering and maths project designed around the technologies of flight and the pupils visited RNAS Merryfield control tower to watch the Merlin, Lynx and Sea King aircraft practice manoeuvres and learn more about how helicopters fly.

Teacher Becky Curry, who organised the trip, said: "Everyone was so excited – some of us had been up since 4am on the day of the visit."

Mike Ive, a retired schools inspector, has been helping with the project and has been producing activities to develop the children's learning.

"The children visited @Bristol, learning about gravity, lift and thrust and wanted to visit the Royal Navy to look at the aircraft," he said.

The children received a brief from the Air Traffic Control Officer and questions from the children were fast and furious ranging from how fast helicopters stay in the air to what happens when the engines stop.

Their visit coincided with a Lynx helicopter from RNAS Yeovilton simulating engine failure as part of a training exercise and making a controlled descent as pupils looked on from the tower.

In addition to visiting the control tower the resident fire crew talked to the pupils about fire fighting and demonstrated the engine's equipment. The children took turns sitting in the fire truck and spraying water from the various water hoses and cannons.

■ THE staff at Dike and Son in Crewkerne got into the fundraising spirit on their Pink Day and helped to raise over £350 in aid of Cancer Research. Staff dressed in pink and held a raffle and sold pink cakes, which a local bakery provided. Lesley Harwood, store manager, thanked the local public for their kindness and generosity in helping to raise such a significant amount of money for a worthy cause.

Michael signs copies of 'My Lynda'

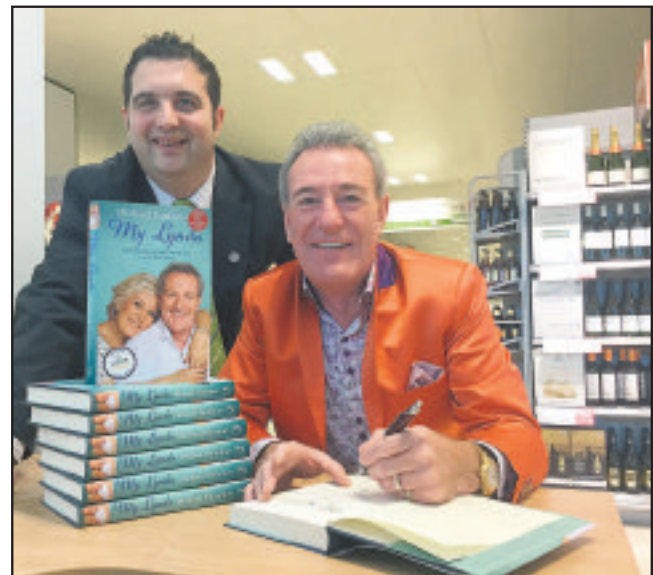

CREWKERNE resident and husband of the late actress and television presenter Lynda Bellingham, Michael Pattemore, visited his local Waitrose branch for a book signing last week.

Michael has released a new book named "My Lynda" about his life with the "Loose Women" presenter and actress, known for her role in the Oxo Family adverts.

She died aged 66 in October last year after suffering from colon cancer, and her funeral was held in the town.

Funds from book sales will go towards supporting charity Action Against Cancer.

Crewkerne dentist shortlisted for award

CREWKERNE dentist Dr Ahmad Nounu is certainly smiling brightly after being shortlisted for the National Dentistry Awards 2015 in the category of Best Young Dentist.

The 2015 Dentistry Awards, one of the most anticipated events in the dental calendar, is designed specifically to reward and recognise regional excellence in UK dentistry.

These awards recognise outstanding individuals and teams who are at the top of their profession and who continually raise the standards within general dentistry.

highly qualified dentists in the country, is the practice principal and director of Black Swan Dental Spa based in Crewkerne.

Black Swan Dental Spa, which opened in 2012, provides excellent, quality dentistry using the best materials, equipment and techniques.

Dr Nounu said: "I am absolutely thrilled to have been shortlisted for the National Dentistry Awards.

"It is a real honour, but I couldn't have achieved this without the support of my excellent practice team.

"We've worked incredibly hard to offer clients a relaxing pain free dental experience and to have this recognised nationally is a huge achievement for us all."

The National Dentistry Awards Ceremony will take place on Friday, November 27th in Leicester.

Dr Nounu might be up for the Best Young Dentist award, but he has already got a growing reputation as one of the best in the business.

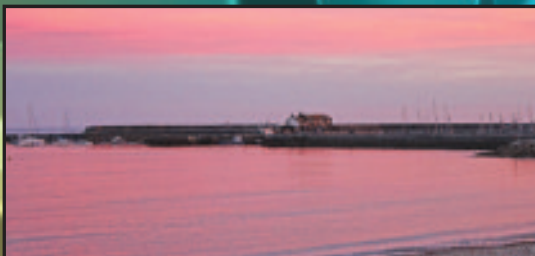

He sits on the committees for the British Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry and the local British Dental Association, while in 2013 he was named in Private Dentistry magazine's Elite Top 20 UK Dentists.

More recently he was one of the cosmetic dental experts on Sky TV's My Face, My Body show.

Why not visit your pharmacy first?

ASK Your Pharmacist Week is running from November 9th to 15th and the team at Crewkerne Pharmacy is encouraging local people to visit them before heading to their GP.

A range of NHS services are available in local pharmacies and often people make unnecessary trips to their GP or A&E when the local pharmacy could help.

In recent years, pharmacies have expanded their roles in the community, and now provide a wide range of clinical and public health services. However, while most people go first to their pharmacy for medicines, many don't know about the range of other healthcare services on offer in pharmacies.

Activities planned across the country for Ask Your Pharmacist Week include health checks in shopping centres, community talks, pharmacy window displays and visits to pharmacies by local dignitaries.

Manager at Crewkerne Pharmacy, Andy McKee, said: "Your local pharmacy is a good first contact point for advice on many common health concerns. People will visit their pharmacy for medicines advice, but many don't know about the range of other healthcare services provided by pharmacies on their doorstep and the level of expertise there."

"At Crewkerne Pharmacy we have pharmacists available to see you without an appointment and we are able to deal with a wide range of ailments, as well as offering uniquely accessible advice on maintaining and improving your health."

Crewkerne Pharmacy is open from 7am to 10.30pm Monday to Saturday and 10am to 5pm on Sundays.

Drivers warned to watch out for binmen on dark mornings

WITH the clocks going back last weekend, darkening days raise the risk of accidental near-misses for waste crews working around their vehicles and the public.

And as winter approaches, Somerset Waste Partnership is urging motorists to wait patiently and take no risks if delayed by a recycling or refuse collection truck.

During gloomy days, drivers must keep a special eye out for the men and women helping shift up to a tonne of waste a year from each of Somerset's 240,000 homes.

House-to-house collections inevitably mean large and slow moving waste vehicles in narrow lanes or busy urban streets with crew members often having to cross traffic.

While waste crews report that the vast majority of motorists are calm and considerate when delayed by collection vehicles, a minority are careless or angry and drive dangerously.

In addition to revved engines and verbal abuse, crews have experienced physical attacks and being hit by cars - as yet, and very luckily, without serious injury.

Impatient or over-eager motorists who drive onto pavements or narrowly overtake waste vehicles put every other road user, from crews to other drivers, cyclists and pedestrians, in danger.

Faced with a waste vehicle delaying traffic, the advice is simple:

- Stay calm - be patient as the waste crew will be moving on very shortly.

- Horns, lights, revved engines or shouting will not speed up pick-ups.

- Ensure you do not make delays worse with poor driving or parking.

- If there is a significant problem, contact council customer services.

A Somerset Waste Partnership spokesperson said: "Calm and considerate driving ensures bins get collected and we all get to our destinations in good time.

"One great thing about any waste delay is that these vehicles are usually on a fixed route and schedule - make a mental note to find another route next time.

"And if you see dangerous behaviour around a waste vehicle, report the details to SWP via your district council customer services."

Keeping both the public and waste staff safe is a priority for Somerset Waste Partnership and its collection and recycling site contractors, Kier and Viridor.

Residents can reduce risks and help others by staying safe around rubbish and recycling vehicles, at recycling sites, and when putting out materials for collection.

For more advice about sites, services and safety, see www.somerset-waste.gov.uk

Jurassic Drifters entertain at care home

RESIDENTS at the Burnworthy House care home in South Petherton enjoyed an afternoon of music from the Jurassic Drifters.

Staff and residents enjoyed tapping their toes and singing along to hits from the ukulele group, which performed songs from the 1930s through to the 1960s.

Karen Roberts, manager of Burnworthy House, said: "I would like to say a big thank you to the Jurassic Drifters for their fantastic performance. We all had a great evening singing away to some of our favourite tunes."

Somerset Care, which runs Burnworthy House, is one of the largest not-for-profit healthcare providers in southern England with 31 care homes looking after 1,550 residents.

Are you missing out on welfare advice?

COUNCIL chiefs are concerned that many people throughout South Somerset are failing to get all the welfare advice they are entitled to receive.

They miss out because they do not realise that a particular benefit exists or that some benefits are paid regardless of how much income or savings they have.

South Somerset District Council's welfare advice team can provide advice and assistance with different welfare benefits in the following areas:

- General benefit checks to ensure you are getting all the help you are entitled to;
- "What if" calculations for potential changes in your circumstances;
- Help with applications and completing forms;
- Advice and guidance if you think a decision is wrong;
- Assistance with appeals (where appropriate).

Council leader, Councillor Ric Pallister, said: "Benefits exist in recognition that some in our society need additional financial help to manage their day to day living and that is why they are an entitlement.

"Whilst many benefits are means tested, some are not, and understanding what help is available and accessing it can be complex and a daunting prospect. Our Welfare Advice team has operated for many years in helping South Somerset residents and the need for their services has never been greater than now.

"Receiving the correct financial support can be life changing to those who have been struggling to make ends meet and I am particularly proud of the contribution that the team make.

"In particular, their success rate in challenging incorrect advice and decisions issued by those responsible for administering the Welfare system has seen many mistakes corrected and wrongs righted over the years. The Welfare Advice team provide a front line service that directly impacts positively on people's lives and is there to help those who most need it."

The Welfare Advice team are situated at Petters Way Council Offices in Yeovil, however the service is delivered across the whole of south Somerset. The team also work with partner agencies such as South Somerset CAB, Age UK and Yarlinton Housing Group to ensure the right advice is available to residents at the right time.

Residents of South Somerset can access Welfare Advice via the main council telephone number 01935-462462 or at local offices where a referral will be sent for someone to call you back.

An advice surgery is held in Crewkerne at the Town Hall every Wednesday. Booking is recommended.

Sunny Days Nursery

“Providing quality childcare for a brighter future”

SUNNY Days Nursery was set up to provide a quality play and learning environment for local children.

The nursery situated within the Playdome facility will offer high quality care and attention to the children as well as understanding that every child is unique and learns at their own pace.

Sunny Days are keen to nurture the next generation of great minds in the world and help to set them on the road to fulfilling their potential. All staff are fully qualified and have a wealth of experience with children. The nursery rooms are set up to meet individual age related needs. The Bambino Room is a specialist area designed for children up to the age of two, and the room contains a spacious play section and a separate sleep room.

The young explorers room is for two years olds looking to take their first steps towards discovering new experiences while the pre-school is for three to four year olds to enjoy. All the rooms are staffed by educators specialising in that particular age range and are light, bright, air conditioned and well resourced, full of toys.

Sunny Days also offers a new outdoor facility which contains a grass area for the children to experiment with gardening as well as a quiet discovery section. The outdoor facility also has an undercover section so that children can be active outdoor learners in all weathers.

The nursery which has been set up by April Edwards with the help of pre-school veteran Tanya James recognise the importance of fresh air and that some children prefer learning and playing outside. Sunny Days boasts a huge area for bikes, trikes and running around on a soft landing brightly coloured surface.

Sunny Days has several selling points which sets it apart from other nurseries. Playdome has an extensive play frame for the nursery children to have sole use of twice a day and allows children to develop their fine and gross motor skills, during time the Playdome is closed to the public. Freshly cooked food will also be provided for the children with breakfast and lunch served during the opening times of 8am to 6pm, with a specially prepared menu promoting fresh and healthy food. Our caring staff want mums and dads to leave the nursery with their babies fed, changed and their last bottle of the day made up ready to go home so all they have to do is enjoy their babies.

Hansfords Funeral Service

HANSFORDS Funeral Service is a family run business originally founded in Beer over 50 years ago by Charlie Hansford.

Charlie was succeeded by his daughter Trudy Rodgers, who along with her husband Dave has been serving the local community as funeral director for the past 25 years.

In 2012 Trudy and Dave joined forces with another family business, Grassby Funeral Service.

The business continues with Colin Comber as Funeral Director and Trudy Rodgers as Consultant for the business.

In 2013 the business opened new premises at Bay View in Trevelyan Rd, Seaton which have been sensitively renovated to incorporate the main office and a chapel of rest facility.

Colin is ably assisted by Jayne Aplin at the Seaton office.

About The Legion

THE ROYAL BRITISH LEGION is the UK's leading Armed Forces charity.

They provide practical, emotional and financial support to all members of the British Armed Forces past and present, and their families.

The Legion actively campaign to improve their lives and safeguard the Military Covenant between the nation and its Armed Forces.

They also organise the Poppy Appeal, run one of the UK's largest membership organisations and are recognised as the nation's custodian of Remembrance.

The Royal British Legion's mission is to provide welfare, comradeship, representation and Remembrance for the Armed Forces Community.

Royal British Legion Services

WHETHER it's families coping with the loss of a loved one, help at home to adapt to independent living, recovery centres for injured personnel, money and careers advice or residential care: The Royal British Legion are here to help.

Millions of people in the UK and around the world are eligible to access the welfare services and the RBL aim to help the most in need.

As the legacy of Afghanistan and Iraq combine with defence cuts, strains on public sector support and a peak in welfare demand from older veterans; the Service community is facing a perfect storm of health and welfare needs in the coming years. The Royal British Legion is here to support them.

Who the Royal British Legion help

THE Royal British Legion help serving members of the Royal Navy, Army and Royal Air Force, and they also help Ex-Service men and women, their carers and families.

Millions of people in the UK and overseas are eligible to call on the Legion for help. Their aim is to help the 500,000 most in need. Half the people we help are below retirement age.

The Nation Remembers

REMEMBRANCE is part of modern British life, culture and heritage. It becomes a particular feature of the public calendar on or about Remembrance Sunday and November 11th, Armistice Day, each year. This is when public, private, formal and informal Remembrance events take place throughout the UK.

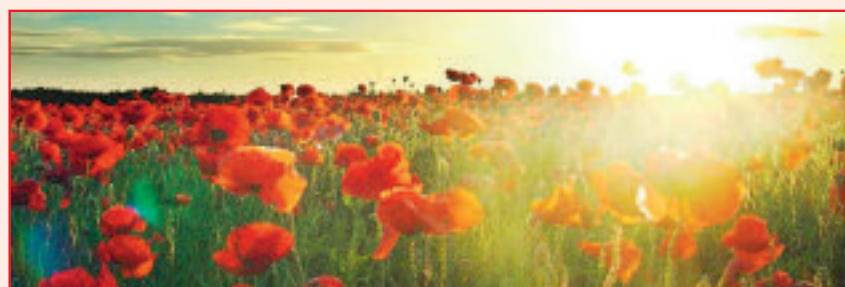

Millions of people each year stop what they are doing and observe a Two Minute Silence at 11am on the 11th day of the 11th month, commemorating the original Armistice of 1918 which signalled the 'stilling of arms' and led to the formal end to the First World War (eventually signed in 1919).

When we bow our heads in reflection, we remember those who fought for our freedom during the two World Wars. But we also mourn and honour those who have lost their lives in more recent conflicts. Today, with troops on duty in Afghanistan and other trouble spots around the world, Remembrance, and the two minute tribute, are as important as ever.

Remembrance Sunday

REMEMBRANCE Sunday, the second Sunday in November, is the day traditionally put aside to remember all those who have given their lives for the peace and freedom we enjoy today. On this day people across the nation pause to reflect on the sacrifices made by our brave Service men and women.

Remembrance Sunday will fall on Sunday, November 8th 2015.

POPPY APPEAL

LIVE ON

TO THE MEMORY OF THE FALLEN
AND THE FUTURE OF THE LIVING

11th November 2015 Wear your poppy with pride

THE ROYAL BRITISH LEGION

Poppies for Remembrance

MCCRAE'S poem in turn inspired an American academic, Moina Michael to make handmade red silk poppies which were then brought to England by a French lady, Anna Guerin. The (Royal) British Legion, formed in 1921, ordered 9 million of the poppies which they sold on 11 November that year. The poppies sold out almost immediately and that first ever 'Poppy Appeal' raised over £106,000, a huge amount of money at the time.

The following year, Major George Howson, who had received the Military Cross for his role in the First World War, set up a factory off the Old Kent Road in London where five disabled ex-Servicemen began making poppies. 3 years later the Poppy Factory moved to its current site in Richmond, Surrey and today produces millions of poppies each year.

Such was the demand for poppies in England in 1922 that few were reaching Scotland. Earl Haig's wife established the 'Lady Haig Poppy Factory' in Edinburgh to produce poppies exclusively for Scotland. Over 5 million Scottish poppies (which have four petals and no leaf unlike poppies in the rest of the UK) are still made by hand by disabled ex-Servicemen at Lady Haig's Poppy Factory each year.

The story of the Poppy

DURING the First World War (1914–1918) much of the fighting took place in Western Europe. Previously beautiful countryside was blasted, bombed and fought over, again and again. The landscape swiftly turned to fields of mud, bleak and barren scenes where little or nothing could grow.

Bright red Flanders poppies (Papaver rhoeas) however, were delicate but resilient flowers and grew in their thousands, flourishing even in the middle of chaos and destruction. In the spring of 1915, shortly after losing a friend in Ypres, a Canadian doctor, Lt Col John McCrae was inspired by the sight of poppies to write a now famous poem called "In Flanders Fields".

#MYPOPPY

The Royal British Legion is calling for people to share why they wear their poppy using the hashtag #MyPoppy

TV STAR Millie Mackintosh, 26, modeled a dress made with red poppies to launch the #MyPoppy campaign. The unique dress was custom-made for Mackintosh by British fashion designer Giles Deacon, 46, whose original sketch took 72 hours to turn into a luxur wool black dress lined with 100 red silk poppies.

Hundreds of celebrities are set to take to social media to share why they wear a poppy in an effort to inspire the public to do the same. Stars from British sport, music, fashion, entertainment and business have all pledged their support for our #MyPoppy campaign as part of this year's Poppy Appeal.

Last year the Poppy Appeal – the biggest cash collection in Europe – raised over £45 million for The Royal British Legion's ongoing support for those serving in the British Armed Forces, veterans and their families.

We're telling some of our amazing stories behind the poppy throughout the Appeal and are urging everyone to share why they wear their poppy using the hashtag #MyPoppy.

Millie Mackintosh wears her poppy to remember her great-grandfather, Lieutenant Douglas Mackintosh, who fought in the First World War.

Now it's your turn! Tell your #MyPoppy story on Facebook @OfficialPoppyLegion, on Twitter @PoppyLegion and on Instagram @RoyalBritishLegion.

IN FRONT of an audience of supporters, trustees and the Remembrance Centre project team at the National Memorial Arboretum in Staffordshire, Sea Cadet Beth Molyneux shared her moving poem explaining why she wears a poppy in memory of her father.

▲ Beth's father, Lieutenant Commander Ian Molyneux, was shot and killed on board HMS Astute as it was docked in Southampton in April 2011. His name is engraved on the Armed Forces Memorial at the National Memorial Arboretum.

Why Do You Wear a Poppy Beth?

"Why do you wear a Poppy Beth?" my friend asked, "I'd like to know... You are too young to remember, the wars from long ago!"

I smiled the biggest smile, As big, as big can be, To show just what my poppy, Really means to me.

As I began to tell her, I stood all nice and tall, And remembered what my Daddy said, When I was very small.

You see, my Daddy was a sailor, He sailed beneath the sea, And when he was on his submarine, He was as happy as can be.

My Daddy used to tell me, "Bethie...wear your Poppy with PRIDE, It's to send love to our force And remember those that died.

When people see your poppy Beth, They'll see how proud you are, To remember all those fighting, For our country, near and far".

I am only 10-years-old, But it's so important that I know, They were fighting for our freedom, In the wars so long ago.

It is because of their sacrifice, That we are free, you see, To proudly fly our Union flag, For all the world to see.

And it's because of those still fighting, In wars across the world, That I can sleep safely in my bed, Free from any cares.

Lots of those out fighting, To keep our country free, Are brave Mummies and Daddies, Of children, just like me.

It's why it's so important, Whilst they are fighting hard, To look after all the children, And keep them safe from harm.

Because, these children are the future, Of the country in which we live, The very country our armed forces. Are fighting to protect.

There's another special reason, That I wear my Poppy with pride, It's because my Daddy, my hero, Bravely gave his life.

He wasn't away in a foreign land, He was on his submarine, Protecting the boat and her crew, In the name of Her Majesty the Queen.

Now my Daddy is an angel, In heaven up above, With all the others that have died, For the country that they love.

So when I wear my poppy, So proudly on my chest, It's there to show our forces Really are the best.

It's to remember all those people, Who gave their lives for our today, And for my brave Daddy, my hero, Who in my heart will always stay.

My friend listened to my story, And then quietly said, "I'd like to get a Poppy, To pin onto my chest.

So I too can wear it proudly, For all the world to see, So I too will always remember, The reason I am free!"

Astonishing Alice in Wonderland dance adaptation comes to Honiton

OSLO-BASED Panta Rei dance company bring this extraordinary, fast paced and accessible re-telling with wonderful dance and music to The Beehive on Saturday, November 14th at 7pm.

The piece is suitable for children and "young at heart adults" and - be warned - there will be unexpected encounters between the Wonderland characters and the audience.

"Behind the Mirror" is brought to Devon by Villages in Action. The charity is our county's rural touring scheme, and raises funds to curate world-class acts for Devon villages and market towns.

Before vanishing, the Cheshire cat tells Alice, "We're all mad here." This is definitely one show you'd be mad to miss.

An evening with the Warhorse songman

BOB FOX has played the role of songman in WarHorse for the past three years, both in the West End and currently in the UK/Ireland and South Africa touring production.

Join him as he performs the songs from the multi award winning smash hit WarHorse, with additional material from his own personal repertoire – a number of stories and songs built up from his forty year career in the music industry.

This event is a great opportunity to see one of the finest exponents of storytelling through song.

Since the early seventies Bob Fox has lovingly developed his skills in the performance of folk song in all its various forms. Hailing from County Durham in the North East of England – his music is deeply influenced by the working class culture and industrial folk song from that area.

Bob has toured extensively throughout the world including the UK, Europe, USA, New Zealand and Australia, performing both as a solo artist and alongside musical heavyweights such as Stu Luckley, Ralph McTell, Billy Mitchell and Fairport Convention.

Twice nominated as Folk Singer of the Year at the BBC Folk Awards,

Bob has long been a favourite on the live circuit. This new tour will offer Bob's large and loyal fanbase the first chance in over eighteen months to enjoy his warm rich voice and virtuoso finger-style guitar talent with witty banter thrown in for good measure.

Bob is performing at Colyford Memorial Hall on Wednesday, November 11th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10 and are available from Colyford Post Office or on 01297 553710. All profits are going to the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal.

It's a great night of Bangers and Mash with a variety of sausages available, the kids can get involved too with sparklers and soup is served for those who need really warming up.

No bonfire is lit, the pub has after all got to look after its brand new thatch, but fireworks are a must and are set off from 9pm in the field at the rear of the pub. Parking is available and there is more parking in the village. Entrance is free and it is hoped everybody will enjoy the discounted ales and sausage supper before enjoying the fireworks.

What the Vendors Say

"We have lived in this flat and more recently have rented it out and it has proved to be a popular property appealing to a broad range of people. During our ownership we have updated the kitchen, bathrooms and gas central heating. We love the fact we can walk to all the amenities nearby. The allocated parking is an added bonus and we have spent many a sunny morning sitting on the outside terrace area."

The Hawksbridge View

"The Cellar is a hidden treasure. Behind its unassuming façade is an extremely spacious leasehold flat with a superb sitting room and well thought out kitchen. The allocated parking space and central location make The Cellar a definite one to consider for both investors and owner occupiers alike"

Drivers urged to prepare their cars for winter

WITH winter on its way, Motor Codes, the government-approved consumer watchdog for the automotive industry, is urging motorists to 'winter-proof' their cars. Its online winter driving tips will help drivers to ensure their vehicles are prepared for winter driving conditions, and help avoid expensive repairs.

Bill Fennell, Managing Director, Motor Codes, said, "Winter doesn't officially begin until 21 December this year, but there is no time like the present to ensure that antifreeze is topped up, tyres and brakes are working well and your windscreen is clear."

"Drivers needn't wait for an official Met Office warning. If they follow our winter driving tips, their cars will be winter-ready – and this will make journeys safer for them, their passengers and other road users. Whatever the forecast for winter, drivers need to be able to rely on their cars and make them as safe as possible."

Here are Motor Codes' top 10 tips to winter-proofing your car:

1. Top up antifreeze

It's an obvious tip, but you'd be amazed by the number of people who fail to maintain the right level of antifreeze in their vehicle. Without adequate antifreeze, sub-zero temperatures can do untold damage to your engine. Your manual will tell you the best type of antifreeze for your car and the amount you should use. Safety first! Never replenish fluids (oil, coolant, wiper fluid) straight after you've driven the car – wait until it's cooled down.

2. Make sure your windscreen is clear

In the winter, spray, grit and slush can obscure the view through your windscreen and compromise your safety. Your windscreen wipers and washer fluid are the only defence against this. So make sure the wipers are working smoothly and don't leave streaks, and that the washer fluid is always topped up.

Keep a supply of washer fluid, ideally mixed with de-icer, in the boot. Don't be tempted to replenish the fluid compartment with water and washing-up liquid – you'll end up with a fogged-up windscreen.

Other road-users need to be able to see you, so check that all your driving lights (including foglights) are working properly and wipe them clean once a week.

3. Keep your battery charged

Your car battery works harder during the winter months: the heating's on full-blast, de-misters are working overtime and, because of the shorter daylight hours, headlights are on for longer. As if that's not enough, cold temperatures also reduce the battery's capacity. It's important you know the health of your battery – the last thing you want is to be met by silence the next time you try to turn on the engine.

4. Check your tyres

Balding tyres are a safety hazard at any time, but in winter the risks of an accident are even greater. So make sure that all four tyres have the safe amount of tread. Legally, the depth of the tread must be at least 1.6mm but, for peace of mind, 2–3mm is recommended. You may even want to invest in a set of winter tyres, particularly if you live in a rural or hilly area.

5. Test your brakes

The roads are wetter and more slippery in winter than at any other time of the year, so it's vital that your brakes are up to the task. Some newer cars are fitted with sensors that will tell you when the brakes need replacing. Otherwise, you can ask your local garage to test your brake pads, discs and pipes.

6. Protect your car body

Nothing ages your car body quicker than exposure to the grit and salt sprinkled on the roads in the winter. Prevention is definitely better than cure when it comes to keeping corrosion at bay, so wash and wax your car before the harsh weather sets in. If you have to park outside during the winter months, consider buying a good quality car cover.

7. Replace belts and hoses

Cold temperatures can weaken the rubber belts and hoses under your car's bonnet, and you don't want something to snap out on the road on a cold winter's night. Although in most cases they get checked at service time every 30,000 miles or so, it's always a good idea to let a mechanic give them a once-over before the first cold snap arrives, as there may be potential weak points susceptible to the cold weather.

8. Don't run the tank empty

In sub-zero temperatures, your fuel-line may freeze up meaning that your car won't start. You can prevent this simply by making sure your fuel tank is always more than half-full.

9. Keep an emergency kit

Keep an emergency kit in your car in case you break down and find yourself stuck out in the cold. Your kit should include boots, blankets, torch and batteries, first aid kit, jump leads, shovel, road atlas, de-icer and sunglasses (winter sun can be dazzling).

10. Get a timely service

You can address many of these winter-proofing tips in one go by paying a visit to your local garage. Many now offer special winter checks, including ensuring tyres are in good condition, mechanical parts are lubricated and essential lubricants topped up. Remember that keeping up-to-date with the recommended service schedule will help keep your car in good condition all year round – and protect any warranty.

If you're in doubt about whether your car is winter-ready, check out Motor Codes' handy infographic guide at www.motorcodes.co.uk/wintertips. You can also use the site's garage finder to search for a local garage to help give you peace of mind.

Chard rocked by disallowed late goal

Teign tame Tigers - Ilminster progress in cup - Chinnocks rocked by Hodges hat-trick

MATCH REPORTS

Saturday, October 31st

CHARD TOWN 2 CHIPPING SODBURY 3

Toolstation League Div One - att; 73
AN astonishing refereeing decision played a big part in Chard Town's defeat on Saturday in the first of four consecutive home league games at Zembard Lane.

Chard had taken an early lead through Ed Butcher only for the visitors to level from the penalty spot in the 72nd minute following a needless foul in the box by Darren Hutchings.

Six minutes Chipping took the lead after Chard keeper Jason Hutchings had beaten out an initial shot.

Undeterred, Chard levelled eight minutes from time courtesy of an own by the visiting keeper after a challenge from Mark Scott.

Then came the crucial decision.

A shot from distance zipped over the visiting glove and into the net. But the 'goal' was ruled out for a foul on the keeper with no Chard player within touching distance! The visiting glove-man later admitted the offence was by a team mate.

Play switched up to the other end and to add insult to injury Chipping scored again before Chard manager Adam Fricker was dismissed for dissent.

Robins: J.Hutchings, B.Haines, D.Hutchings, L.Bailey, M.Scott, J.Regan, B.Symes, L.Waldy (M.Westlake 75), A.Butler (A.Martin 35), E.Butcher, S.Holland. Unused sub; J.Barfoot.

Next up for Chard is Saturday's visit by Chippenham Park (3pm ko).

TEIGNMOUTH 5 AXMINSTER TOWN 1

SW Peninsula League D1 (E)

IN-FORM Axminster travelled to Teignmouth keen to test themselves against opposition who had only lost one game so far this season.

Unfortunately, the Tigers just didn't turn up. They were slow in starting and fell behind after ten minutes when they didn't show enough urgency to prevent a cross from the left which found its target and it was put in the back of the net.

It got worse as they then went two down when a lack of communication allowed a Teignmouth forward to get between Axminster goalkeeper Scott Wells-Burr and one of his defenders to roll the ball into an empty net.

The Tigers did, however, get back into the game when Liam Cleal was up-ended in the box and top-scorer Jon Hurford scored the resulting penalty for his ninth goal of the season.

The season to date, which is now over a third of the way through, has seen just two victories and 11 defeats and a meagre points haul of nine from 16 games.

Fans, fed up with watching their side slip to defeat after defeat have now turned their anger on chairman John Fry for the debacle that has seen the Glovers slip from the Championship to the edge of extinction back to non-but just before the break they didn't deal with a corner and it was 3-1.

Ax started the second half well and Tony Pinder hit the upright. But the game was put out of reach when a cross reached the far post where it was put away. Despite their best efforts Axminster conceded again when a penalty made it 5-1.

Axminster were certainly not played off the pitch but have to wait until November 14th (3pm ko home v NEWTON ABBOT SPURS) for the chance to bounce back to form.

NEWTOWN 4 CHARD TOWN RESERVES 3
SOME indifferent defending which manager Stu Parris described as 'Shocking' saw Chard Town Reserves go 4-0 down inside the opening 20 minutes at Newtown.

James Boyland and Oscar Latus made it 4-2 at half time and Boyland added his second with 20 minutes to go, but the Robins just failed to find a late leveller. "We were the better side for the majority of the game... except for the first 20 minutes", said Parris.

Somerset League Cup

COMBE were forced to come from behind twice to secure a league cup point with a 2-2 draw at Slades Cross.

The Saints were punished for failing to clear their lines in the 35th minute as the visitors scrambled the ball home.

But Harry Boddington volleyed home the first equaliser soon after the interval only for Shepton to bag what appeared to be the winner in the 81st minute.

But there was still time for Rich Heditch to convert a late penalty and push for an 11th hour winner only to be denied by the clock.

The point wasn't enough to clinch Combe a place in the knock-out stages of the competition.

The Saints are in Somerset Senior Cup action next weekend with a last 32 tie at Premier Division mid-tables Frome Collegians (1.45pm ko).

Next weekend Combe turn their attention back to the League Cup competition with the visit of SHEPTON MALLET RESERVES (3pm).

MANAGER Darren Manley held his hands up as Ilminster Town slid to a 3-1 league cup reverses.

"I got our opening formation all wrong and they took control," said Manley.

The hosts were 2-0 in front after just 20 minutes when Manley changed things around switching from a 3-5-2 line-up to 4-5-1. They then got going but had to wait until the 70th minute for Andy Morley to pull one back. But the hosts weren't to be denied and grabbed a third in the 86th minute.

The was however good enough to see the Blues progress to from Group C to the next round of the competition (last 32) on goal difference.

CHARD UTD 1 SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP 2

CUP holders Shepton Beauchamp were forced to fight all the way to retain their grip on the trophy at Jocelyn Park on Saturday.

Shepton were grateful for a couple of fine save from keeper Rich Pippin in a goal less opening half-hour, but took a slender led into the interval when MoM Pete Field's corner eluded everybody and found the net.

The lead was doubled ten minutes after the break when the towering Kris Hastings nodded home an Aaron Sweet free-kick.

The visitors were denied a third by an offside flag on a couple of occasions before Chard gave themselves hope with scrambled Norbert Harasiemowicz effort but Shepton saw out the win and are now unbeaten in nine.

SOUTH PETHERTON H-W COMBE RESERVES
SOUTH Petherton were handed free passage into the semi-finals when Combe Reserves, last season's beaten finalists, failed to raise a side.

WINSHAM UTD 2 PERRY STREET 4

PERRY Street battled back from 2-0 down at Bakers Field to clinch a semi-final at South Petherton.

Hosts Winsham took an early lead when Ian Hilton's free-kick was only half cleared to Tony Harwood whose cross was headed home by Warren Gabbidon.

Gabbidon repeated the feat soon after - this time getting on the end of a Bryan Garrett corner.

Perry Street got a foothold with a Dan Collins strike before the interval with Winsch defenders claims for a handball in the build-up waved away.

Jay Stewart equalised in the second half with the hosts once again appealing for handball.

But The Mothers went on to win the game with late strikes from Charlie Grierson and Collins who bagged his 13th of the campaign - this time from the penalty spot.

BARRINGTON 3 NETHERBURY 1

BARRINGTON closed the gap on leaders Beaminster to two points with a hard fought win over a battling Netherbury side after repeating the score line in last week's Coronation a cup-tie between the two teams.

The hosts took and early lead courtesy of an own goal only for Ryan Gall to level for the Ambers soon after.

Top Scorer Andy Whitefield edged Barrington ahead before the interval and Guy Dare clinched the win in the second half. "They (Netherbury) never gave up - I think they'll upset a few this season," said Barrington manager Sid Brown.

W & M CHINNOCK 3 CREWKERNE TOWN 6
SKIPPER Aaron Hodges led the way with a MoM performance and a hat-trick as Crewkerne Town banked their first points of the season in Saturday's local derby at Oxleaze.

Hodges bagged the Tigers' first and Stuart Weston, with a crisp 18-yarder, the second as they led 2-1 at the turn-around.

Hodges scored twice after the interval with Kieron Adams and Dave John, with the pick of the bunch, scoring the others for the visitors.

Mark Cawley, debutant Alex Eckland and Charlie Gay - with a long range free-kick netted for the Chinn.

Meanwhile, Forton Rangers failed to raise a team for the trip to face leaders Beaminster.

DIVISION ONE CUP quarter finals

THE three completed quarter-finals went with form while Waytown Hounds were handed a walkover victory over Combe A who failed to raise a team.

Misterton racked up their biggest win for three years as they crushed Thorncombe 8-0 with Scott Jennings (2), Harvey Saunders, Dan Edmunds, George Miles on target. Paul Gold had the other two on debut following his transfer from Crewkerne Town.

Drimpton came from behind with goals from George Tuck, Craig Studdings, Terry Farrell and Chris Fry to over turn neighbours Beaminster Reserves 4-2. Jon Stuart and Josh Hunter netted the Rainbows' consolations.

Over at Wadham School Gavin Herrod moved up to 16 goals for the season with three more as Hawkchurch United beat hosts Crewkerne Rangers 5-2 with Tom Bending and Jack Blunn netting the Rangers' late consolations.

football: A view of the Glovers

WITH STUART BROOM

Getting sticky for Fry as Glovers hit rock bottom

SURELY the time is getting nearer for some big changes at Huish Park as Yeovil, after two home defeats in four days against moderate opposition, slipped to the bottom of League 2 after throwing away a two goal lead at Carlisle on Saturday.

The season to date, which is now over a third of the way through, has seen just two victories and 11 defeats and a meagre points haul of nine from 16 games.

Fans, fed up with watching their side slip to defeat after defeat have now turned their anger on chairman John Fry for the debacle that has seen the Glovers slip from the Championship to the edge of extinction back to non-football in three seasons, the first club in history to do so should this situation continue.

Following the previous Saturday's 3-2 loss at home to Cambridge United, their third in eight days, chants of 'We're all going to have a party when John Fry sells the club', rang out from a depleted Thatcher Stand from those loyal fans that have not given up the hope and gone shopping in the deluded hope that they might see a change in fortune.

Finally Fry, nicknamed 'Teflon' for the way that he deflects any criticism of the board or himself on to other people, including the fans, cannot hide any longer.

His insistence that relegation from Division One last season was the fault of the fans in that not enough came to pay to watch rubbish, really angered those of us that turned up regardless of the situation, and are now voicing what has been the general consensus amongst fans for a long time that his reign is up and he should step down.

You cannot keep blaming everyone but yourself. He and the board rightly took the plaudits when Yeovil were promoted to the Championship.

But his reluctance to spend £1m on a striker at Christmas when, despite generally good performances that saw them hold their own against much bigger clubs, the lack of goals saw them close to the bottom, eventually proved decisive with relegation.

He then had the audacity to say that the club lost £5m by dropping out of the Championship.

However, if he had shown a bit more positivity around the New Year and paid out for a decent striker which would have got the goals that would have kept them up, then he would have saved £4m!

As Fry always takes the plaudits can he explain the continuing love affair with Terry Skiverton and Darren Way?

Skiverton has had three spells in charge at Huish Park with Dazza by his side, and blown them all, so why are they still in the dugout with Paul Sturrock?

A complete clear out was required when Gary Johnson left and a new, young manager with his own staff - such as Marcus Stewart - given a chance.

With new investment required in the team, Fry continues to ignore offers, concentrating on selling the training ground using plans constantly rejected by the authorities.

A caller to a local radio station on Saturday appeared to hit the nail on the head when he said it was time the board concentrated on the football team and not selling the land to build a new store.

THE three unbeaten teams in Division One all retained their 100 per cent records.

Hi Q retained their top spot thanks to a 34-10 win over Signs South West with Jo Channing playing well as they controlled the game leading 22-6 heading into the last quarter. Faye Hawkins was the SSW star. Updown defeated Sidmouth Toucan Chicks 39-27. With Sarah Fryin good form, Updown led from the start but, with Charlotte Yorke playing well, the Chicks were always in touch for a point.

Flamingos moved above Updown by virtue of their big 47-9 win against JD Tyres who are still looking for their first point.

Although Helen Freeman-put in a good display to encourage JD they were always chasing the game with Anna Burley starring for the Flamingos.

Otters held on to their second place spot with a 37-24 win over Tip Top Trees for whom Jess Jeffery had another fine game.

Otters started slowly and at half way 3Ts had a 14-13 lead but in the third period Helen Wright put some fire over the Otters and they fought back to clinch the win.

With Sara Pearce playing well, the Panthers led from the start and going into the final period had a comfortable lead. Rose Cook worked hard for the Ladies but the Panthers finished 30-12 winners.

In the other game Pixies gained their second win to close the gap on fourth placed Toucans. They were up against Swagermamas who were just one goal behind at half way.

In the last two quarters Pixies moved ahead to win by 29-12. Nat Shabytah was the pick of the Pixies with Zoe Berisford the Mamas' star.

Wayne's lasting legacy

CRICKET St THOMAS
with Bert Robinson

THE fine weather last Monday attracted 47 Seniors for the final qualifying medal of the season.

A fine round of nett 68 by newcomer and former Somerset cricketer, Allan Jones was enough to take the Division One title with Nick George just two shots behind.

In Division Two Robin Flower returned a +1 par score of 71, but was beaten by Alan Davis who recovered from a poor start to finish at -1.

Results; Division One — 1st Allan Jones 68, 2nd Nick George 70, 3rd Keith Potter 73.

Division Two; 1st Alan Davis, 2nd Robin Flower, 3rd Mike Mosser 73. Meanwhile, 18 pairs of Seniors entered the 'Medal — Stableford' competition on Wednesday.

In this format the benchmark score is 34. However, conditions were not favourable and the scoring was not up to scratch. A fine effort by Mike Hone & Allan Jones earned them victory by two shots over Trevor Dobson & Ed Paolini.

Result; 1st Allan Jones & Mike Hone 41, 2nd Trevor Dobson & Ed Paolini 43, 3rd John McOmish & Alan Davis 46.

The foul weather on Friday washed out the roll up programme, but did not deter the match team from travelling to Enmore Club for the final match of the year.

The omens were not good as Richard Forster & Nobby Hodder went down 7&6 in the first game.

Barry Heath & Robin Flower steadied the ship in the second game with a half, but with losses at games three, four and five the match was already lost.

Pride was the restored as John Pearce & Bryan Frost came back from two down after 15 holes to win the last three and snatch a one hole win.

Norman Markby & Paul England were unlucky at game 7, as they had victory snatched from their hands on the final hole when their opponents chipped in from 70 yards!

Stuart Pope & Lyndsey Gage salvaged a half in the final game, but the hosts won 6 — 2 overall.

HONITON with Liz Rogers

The Men's Circus Children In Need competition was started in 1991 by Wayne Piper, Barry Dunn & Phil Wall as a way of raising money for the charity.

Sadly Wayne died in 2001 but it is his Memorial Shield that is compete for.

This year a full field of 72 competitors took part in the 25th anniversary tournament. To celebrate the special occasion all previous winners were invited back to play in a special 'past winners' competition — the winner was 1996 winner Barry Cross with 35 points.

Paul Borkowski won the main competition with 38 points.

This year's competition raised over £1,250 for Children in Need and the total raised in the 25 years exceeds £40,000.

JUNIORS SECTION

LAST Wednesday a number of our juniors travelled to tackle the notoriously tricky Saunton Golf Club and competed in the Junior Open on the West Course.

Junior Captain Ben Phillips carded an outstanding gross 76, net 69, in turn winning the best handicap prize in his division.

This led to a handicap reduction for Ben who will now in future be teeing off with a handicap of 6.

LADIES SECTION

THIS week the ladies enjoyed a Stableford competition, playing in teams of three, with the best two scores to count.

This was a shotgun 14-hole competition which meant all teams started off at the same time but from different tees.

The three top teams all came in with 56 points.

After countback the winning team was; Sue Ritchie, Di Wall & Penny Blackburn. In second place was the team of Diana Gee, Olive Pope & Catherine Doherty. Third place was taken by Shelia Palmer, Brenda Hyde & Sharon Dacre. Around £150 was raised for Children in Need.

ON Sunday the Mens Section played the first round of their Winter League, stableford format.

Result — 1st — Dave Steer 43pts, 2nd Steve Reed 32, 3rd Steve Baker 38. Steve Reed and Johnny Potter recorded the only 2s.

The Ladies played a Bowmaker for their Halloween Competition, stableford format with one score to count on the front nine and two scores to count on the back 9.

Merriott stalwart Margaret lands singles title

CHARD

IN this week's Milford & Dormer League Canaries beat Trull 16-7 to record their first win in this year's competition.

Meanwhile, Hurricanes beat Musbury 16-11 and leaders Harlequins defeated Greyhounds 20-8.

On Friday Chard played HEMYOCK in the East Devon League winning by six games to two and 83 points to 34.

On Saturday the 'Battle of the Sexes' match took place with four games of triples played. Each side won two each but the men won overall by seven points.

HONITON with Julie Grant

THE club opened up the indoor arena to visitors last Friday. Hopefully some will continue their interest in the sport as a pastime, hobby or at more competitive levels.

There were competitions last week for both the men and the ladies.

The men achieved a very good 80-64 win over Donyatt in the two home, two away Denny Cup with both home rinks winning. The top rink were; Peter Baker, Eddie Sharman, Scott Eveleigh & Steve Dommett 23-12. This sets up a tie with Ilminster in the next round.

The ladies secured four points in the county league against Plymouth in the Foxlands, top rink; Berry Maynard, Brenda Harris, Marian Vessey & Shirley Hiscocks 22-19.

Top triple in the Lane league were Myra Singleton, Jean Mitchell & Di Morley gaining Honiton two points by winning 18-17.

Finally, Axminster were defeated 80-55 in a mixed friendly, top rink; Joan Mackintosh, Les Crook, Daphne Courtney & Eddie Sharman 22-11.

MERRIOTT SMBC

with Anne Weeks

IN the Milford & Dormer league Merriott Canaries played a very tight match against Chard Hurricanes.

The final end required the Canaries' skip to get her bowl as close to the ditch line as possible but sadly it just trickled over and match was lost 12-9.

On Saturday, October 24th Merriott held its annual Club Championship.

Many games were extremely close and the day was made all the more interesting by having all members taking part.

The Club meets on a Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evenings but it is rare for all players to get together owing to work commitments.

The order of play was decided by names being drawn randomly and therefore in some instances a less experienced player was drawn to play with a more experienced player in the pairs competition, or against in the singles.

The Singles competition was won by Margaret Rowswell who has been a stalwart of the Club since its formation in 1995. She won through to play a final against Frank Smith.

The Pairs competition was won by Anne Weeks & Bill Elston who defeated Lacon Noad & Derek Virgin in the final.

Holyrood led with two converted tries and a penalty, only for opponents Haygrove to level the scores at 17-17 with three minutes to go and, with away advantage on their side, favourites to progress.

But Holyrood mounted up one last attack and their pressure proved too much for Haygrove who gave away a crucial penalty.

With their usual kicker off the field, Blackmore took responsibility and held his nerve to land the penalty and clinch the 20-17 win, much to the relief and admiration of the 100+ friends, family and spectators in attendance.

Year 10 rugby coach Paul Reid said: "This was an extremely tense end to a very well contested match. I was immensely proud of the boys and very appreciative of the huge numbers who turned out to support them. To get through to the fourth round of the competition is a massive achievement and I'm really looking forward to the next game."
